PERFECT TIME TO GET OUT AND EXPLORE ALL
MIDDLE TENNESSEE
HAS TO OFFER!

Here are some iconic + personal favorites we recommend checking out while you're out soaking up the beautiful spring weather.

THE NASHVILLE PARTHENON

Known as the “Athens of the South” in the 1890s, the city built a full-size replica of the Parthenon for the World Exposition of 1897. Located in the 132-acre Centennial Park, it houses a full-scale replica of the 42-foot-tall statue of Athena. The artwork is the Western Hemisphere’s tallest enclosed sculpture.
